

Employment Offer Policy:

Lehigh University's Center for Career & Professional Development supports the following principles, based on the "Reasonable Offer Deadline Guidelines", published by the National Association of Colleges and Employers (NACE):

- If offers are extended early in the campus recruiting cycle, we recommend that employers provide students a minimum of two weeks to decide on an offer; and that the company provides the student the opportunity to request deadline extensions to allow a reasonable period for investigation of other recruiting opportunities for comparison. However, we recognize that the definitions of "sufficient time" and "reasonable period" will vary, given industry standards, a student's prior experience with the employer, offer timing, and proximity to the graduation date/ start time.
- Providing sufficient time for students to evaluate the employment opportunities offered to them allows them to make the wisest decisions for all concerned, creating a positive experience for candidates and employers, and ultimately reducing renege and attrition rates.
